

Name : Miss. Eranga. Age : 27y Sex : Female.
 Referred by : Dr. Prabhath weerasiri (Consultant General Surgeon)
 Indication : (L) ureteric colic Date : 27.12.2018

ULTRASOUND SCAN REPORT OF THE ABDOMEN AND PELVIS

The liver is of normal size and shows uniform echo texture. Parenchymal echogenicity is normal. There are no demonstrable focal lesions. There is no intra or extra hepatic duct dilatation, portal vein is patent.

Gall bladder is normally distended and maintains normal wall thickness.
 There are no calculi or evidence of cholecystitis.

Pancreas is normal in size and no demonstrable mass.

Spleen is normal in size and shows homogenous echo texture.

Kidneys normal in size. Right kidney BPL is Left kidney BPL is both kidneys show smooth margins, normal cortical echogenicity and cortico medullary demarcation. There are no intra renal calculi. There is no hydronephrosis or ureteric dilatation. No demonstrable renal / Suprarenal mass.

Aorta is of normal caliber. There are no enlarged para aortic lymph nodes. Urinary bladder is normally distended with urine. It maintains normal wall thickness and contours.

There is no intravesical mass or calculi

Pre void volume post void volume

Uterus is normal in size and no demonstrable mass.

There is no adnexal mass.

~~Prostate gland is normal in size~~

There is no free peritoneal fluid

Comments :-

* There is a 6mm calculus in the (L) lower ureter with mild hydronephrosis and hydroure-
 -ter upto calculus.
 * Right kidney is normal

Δ Left lower ureteric calculus with mild obstruction